CHICAGO, IL – In front of an enthusiastic crowd at Chicago's historic Soldier Field, the Illinois Lottery, along with Special Olympics Illinois, Special Children's Charities and the Illinois Department of Human Services, unveiled the newest version of The Special Olympics Ticket - a unique lottery instant game benefiting Special Olympics sports training programs across Illinois.

Soldier Field is a significant venue in Special Olympics history. It played host to the first-ever Special Olympics competition nearly 50 years ago – July 20, 1968. One thousand athletes from the United States and Canada participated.

"There's no better place to showcase the new Special Olympics lottery ticket than Soldier Field," Illinois Lottery Director Gregory Smith said. "We're proud to help Special Olympics athletes across Illinois through sales of this ticket and to partner with Special Olympics Illinois and Special Children's Charities to help further the cause."

The first-in-the-nation Special Olympics Ticket, created in 2014 by the Illinois General Assembly, costs $3, and has raised more than $1.5 million since 2015 to benefit programs serving more than 40,000 Special Olympics athletes in Illinois. The game offers three top instant prizes of $50,000. All proceeds benefit Special Olympics sports training programs statewide.

"Organizations like Special Olympics allow Illinoisans with disabilities to hone their talents and strengths and build their confidence while promoting a healthy lifestyle," Illinois Department of Human Services Secretary James Dimas said. "Funds made available through The Special Olympics Ticket will help Illinois athletes to form new skills, embark on new friendships, spend time with their families and have the opportunity to be included and recognized in their communities."

"We are incredibly grateful to continue our relationship with the Illinois Lottery, which allows Special Olympics Illinois to transform the lives of both current and future generations of Special Olympics athletes," Special Olympics Illinois President & CEO Dave Breen said. "Funds raised from the ticket will lead to further innovation and program growth, and expand opportunities for individuals with intellectual disabilities, their families and volunteers throughout Illinois."

"Special Children's Charities appreciates the ongoing support of the Illinois Lottery and is grateful to every individual who purchases the Special Olympics Lottery ticket," said Kevin Magnuson, president of Special Children's Charities. "Our 6,800 Chicago athletes enjoy year-round programs and the opportunity to build friendships, gain confidence and learn true sportsmanship. Through this partnership, we are able to build a community of acceptance and inclusion for all."

The Special Olympics Ticket is available at nearly 8,000 Illinois Lottery retailers throughout the state and is one of five special cause instant games offered by the Illinois Lottery. Other specialty games contribute funding for Illinois veterans, the fight against breast cancer, assistance for people living with HIV/AIDS, and research efforts into the cause and cure of Multiple Sclerosis. Since 2006, when the first specialty cause instant game was introduced, the Illinois Lottery has transferred more than $43 million for causes players have supported through their ticket purchases. JACKSONVILLE, IL — A group of 23 Jacksonville residents won a $1,000,000 Powerball prize when one of their Quick Pick tickets matched the first five numbers – 09 - 40 - 41 - 53 - 58 - (12) – in the Wednesday, January 18, drawing. Group organizers Patrick “Gibby” Gibson and James “Jamie” Martin presented the winning ticket Monday at the Illinois Lottery Prize Center in Springfield.

Gibson, 45, manages the Knights of Columbus Hall in Jacksonville where Martin, 42, is a regular patron. When the Powerball or Mega Millions jackpots are over $100,000,000, they often pass around an envelope, and any Knights of Columbus members or guests can put in $5 and enter their lottery pool. “We’ve been doing this for the past seven or eight years,” Gibson said.

The group's tickets for the January 18 Powerball drawing were purchased by Gibson at Bowl Inn, 224 N. East St., in Jacksonville. "That's where we usually buy our tickets," he said. The day after the drawing, the manager of Bowl Inn learned he had sold a $1,000,000 winner and immediately called Gibson to tell him to check his tickets. "Jamie and I checked them right away and I actually started shaking when I saw that we had the winner. And then we made 21 phone calls to tell everyone!"

Each group member will receive $43,478.26 (prior to withholding taxes). Gibson's plans for his winnings include paying bills, taking a vacation and buying a car. Martin plans to pay bills and bank the remainder of his windfall for now. The group, now known around town as, 'Lucky 23', plans to celebrate their win by hosting a party at the Knights of Columbus Hall for all of their family and friends. Bowl Inn received a bonus of $10,000, or one percent of the prize amount, for selling a winning ticket.

When asked if they plan to continue to play the lottery in a group, Gibson said, "Definitely. We just passed the envelope around yesterday and 37 people entered!"

The January 18 Powerball jackpot was $135,000,000 and more than 18,000 Illinois Lottery players won prizes ranging from $4 to $200 in the drawing. The jackpot was not won and continued to roll, now standing at $170,000,000 for this Wednesday night's drawing. Powerball drawings take place Wednesday and Saturday nights at 9:59 p.m. For more information, please visit illinoislottery.com.

Illinois Lottery Modifies Payment Policy

Lack of Funding Affects Powerball, Mega Millions, Prize Payments Over $25,000

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

June 27, 2017

Media Contact:

Jason Schaumburg
(312) 793-3034

CHICAGO – The Illinois Lottery is announcing a temporary change in its winner payment policy effective July 1, 2017, should funding for Lottery prizes not be approved by the General Assembly. Players with valid claims of more than $25,000 will experience a delay in payments for all games because of the ongoing state budget impasse in Springfield.

“Players should be confident knowing the Illinois Lottery has the money to pay these winning claims,” Illinois Lottery Acting Director Greg Smith said. “That means the General Assembly needs to approve a truly balanced budget that includes Lottery funding in order to ensure all prize payments will occur.”

In 2015, the Lottery didn’t have Fiscal Year 2016 appropriation authority to pay winners until December, resulting in nearly 3,900 valid claims being delayed, totaling more than $112 million. Within a month of receiving an appropriation, all valid claims were paid to winners.

In addition, a lack of Lottery funding for Fiscal Year 2018 will result in the unprecedented step of suspending Powerball and Mega Millions sales in Illinois.

WHAT IT MEANS FOR POWERBALL

- Powerball sales in Illinois will be suspended at 9:00 p.m. June 28, 2017.
- All Powerball tickets purchased before that cut-off time will be valid tickets.
- All active Powerball subscriptions will be cancelled after the last draw on June 28. The Lottery will issue refunds to players for the remaining length of their subscriptions.
- When a Fiscal Year 2018 appropriation for the Illinois Lottery is passed, the Lottery will work with the Multi-State Lottery Association to determine a path for the return of Powerball sales. The timing is unknown.
- No other Illinois Lottery games will be suspended.

WHAT IT MEANS FOR MEGA MILLIONS

- Mega Millions sales in Illinois will be suspended at 9:45 p.m. June 30, 2017.
- All Mega Millions tickets purchased before that cut-off time will be valid tickets.
- All active Mega Millions subscriptions will be cancelled after the last draw on June 30. The Lottery will issue refunds to players for the remaining length of their subscriptions.

- When a Fiscal Year 2018 appropriation for the Illinois Lottery is passed, sales for Mega Millions will resume.
- No other Illinois Lottery games will be suspended.

WHAT IT MEANS FOR PRIZE PAYMENTS

- Players should not delay claiming a winning ticket.
- Valid claims of more than $25,000 will experience a delay in payments due to the Comptroller's inability to make payments on behalf of the Lottery without an appropriation.
- Players with valid claims of any amount who owe money to the state (via an "offset") will experience a delay in payments due to the Comptroller's inability to make payments on behalf of the Lottery without an appropriation.
- At this time, the Illinois Lottery will continue to pay valid claims of $25,000 or less at any of the five Lottery Prize Centers located throughout Illinois – Chicago, Des Plaines, Fairview Heights, Rockford and Springfield.

CHICAGO – Mega Millions has been redesigned to bring more value to players with larger starting jackpots and faster rolls. Starting jackpots will more than double from $15 million to $40 million, and jackpots will grow faster overall. There will be better odds to win $1 million prizes and higher secondary prizes.

The enriched Mega Millions game will debut Oct. 28. The first drawing for the redesigned Mega Millions game will be Oct. 31. Tickets for the game will cost $2 per play.

“We’re excited to deliver a reinvigorated Mega Millions game to our players,” Illinois Lottery Acting Director Greg Smith said. “Larger and faster-growing jackpots should spark enthusiasm in our players and provide more opportunities to create millionaires and raise money for education in Illinois.”

Mega Millions is one of the world’s biggest and most-recognizable lottery games. Introduced as The Big Game in August 1996 with Illinois and five other states, the game became Mega Millions in May 2002. Mega Millions is played in 46 jurisdictions - 44 states, the District of Columbia and the U.S. Virgin Islands. The largest Mega Millions jackpot was a $656 million prize split by three winners in Illinois, Kansas and Maryland in 2012. In August, the Illinois Lottery awarded its largest prize ever -- $393 million -- after a Quick Pick ticket sold in Palos Heights matched all six numbers in the Aug. 11 Mega Millions drawing.

CHICAGO, IL – The Illinois Lottery, Illinois Lieutenant Governor Evelyn Sanguinetti, the Greater Illinois Chapter of the National MS Society and the Illinois Department of Public Health unveiled the newest version of The MS Project instant game - a lottery ticket that funds research into the cause, prevention, and future cure of Multiple Sclerosis (MS).

"The Illinois Lottery is proud to be partnering again with the Illinois Department of Public Health and the Greater Illinois Chapter of the National MS Society in the fight against multiple sclerosis," Illinois Lottery Acting Director Gregory Smith said. "By purchasing the MS Project lottery ticket, players are providing financial support to their fellow Illinois citizens that struggle each day with the effects of multiple sclerosis."

This is the 10th edition of The MS Project special cause instant game. The ticket costs $3 and has raised more than $8.4 million since 2008. The game offers three top instant prizes of $50,000. All net proceeds, after prize payouts and expenses, benefit MS research statewide.

"I became an MS warrior in 2007. With the help of my neurologist and my family, I have been fortunate not to let MS define me," Lieutenant Governor Evelyn Sanguinetti said. "I'm honored to join the Illinois Lottery to launch this game and thankful for their support to fight this disease. Hopefully this campaign will bring us one step closer to curing MS."

"With recent advances in disease modifying therapies and treatments, it is a time of great promise for people living with MS," said Sarah Rodriguez, President of the Greater Illinois Chapter of the National MS Society. "Thanks much in part to ongoing Lottery-funded research projects taking place across the state, Illinois is a leader in cutting-edge research aimed at stopping MS in its tracks, restoring what has been lost and ending the disease forever."

All profits for The MS Project instant game go to the Illinois Multiple Sclerosis Research Fund, which awards grants to organizations conducting MS research in Illinois. All grants are reviewed and approved by the National MS Society's Research Programs Advisory Committee, a panel that includes 75 leading scientists, physicians, and other professionals from virtually every field related to MS.

"MS is an unpredictable and often disabling disease affecting approximately 400,000 people in the U.S.," said Illinois Department of Public Health Director Nirav D. Shah, M.D., J.D. "We are pleased to partner with the Greater Illinois Chapter of the National MS Society and the Illinois Lottery to fund research to help those diagnosed with MS and to end the devastating disease."

The MS Project ticket is available at nearly 8,000 Illinois Lottery retailers throughout the state and is one of five special cause instant games offered by the Illinois Lottery. Other specialty games contribute funding for Illinois veterans, the fight against breast cancer, assistance for people living with HIV/AIDS, and Special Olympics training programs across Illinois. Since 2006, when the first specialty cause instant game was introduced, the Illinois Lottery has transferred more than $43 million for causes players have supported through their ticket purchases.
